

Reader Comments

While I appreciate the cost savings of deletion and the security of 100% ID checks I am still against the new plan. ID checks and stickers provide a layered defense that improves overall security access. Either system, by itself, is less effective. Additionally, I for one am proud of my Air Force heritage and I will not yield to the "fear mongers" that are overly concerned about my being a more likely terrorist target. Nonsense.

David Loewer

Lackland/Nellis AFBs

Aug. 22, 2007